Art Unit: 1765

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 to 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification does not provide a clear and concise description of the invention. The specification does not set forth the means or processes that are to be used by one of ordinary skill in the art to create the fractual structure that is claimed. The specification merely refers to growth but does not set forth or describe the growth processes or what condition changes are to be made which are to be employed to create the structure.

Claims 1to 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are indefinite for failing to distinctly claim the instant invention. There is no positive recitation in the claims as to the type or nature of the growth processes and the condition changes that will produce the desired structures. The claims do not set forth the content and nature of the instant structures. Clarification is required.

Response to Applicants' Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed May 18, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants' argument concerning the 112 rejections is noted. However, it is still unclear as to the exact nature of the instant invention. There is no positive recitation of which fractal structures applicants are including in this application. Also, there is nothing in the specification to set forth which processes on which fractal structures are to be part of the invention. The claims also do not set forth the meets and bounds of the invention, and merely recite a process. But which processes are to be included in the claims are not set forth in the claims or the specification.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
